

Too delish to squish!

Italian family business, Sacla', celebrates its 80th birthday this year – and the Pesto Pioneers continue to surprise Italian food lovers with something new.

Their latest creation is a range of Whole Cherry Tomato pasta sauces. And when they say “whole”, they really mean it. There's a ripe handful of WHOLE cherry tomatoes in each delicious recipe.

Experimenting with flavour combinations has never been easier. Prefer fragrant flavours? Basil compliments pasta beautifully. Fancy a bit more of a kick? Chilli is absolutely bursting with flavour, and really packs a punch.

More adventurous eaters won't be disappointed either. The range also includes 'Nduja, a spicy Italian sausage, and creamy Burrata, a smooth Italian cheese, like Mozzarella. Both add a delightful twist to any pasta dish and are as close to homemade Italian food as you'll find. Just serve with some gooey garlic bread and a fresh salad.

And, for £2.50 (RRP) in Sainsbury's, they offer great value for a whole lot of goodness. See them on the shelves from the end of May.

Want to find out more? Get in touch with the Sacla' team at Democracy on sacla@democracypr.com or call 0161 881 5941.